Exposure is Key!

April 10, 2024

The purpose of the "Mommy & Daddy, I Want To Be A Doctor" 2024 Summit is to inspire the next generation of healthcare stars with classes in medicine and STEM (Science, Math, Technology, and Engineering) for kids and teens ages 5-16. These unique medical classes immerse kids into the world of medicine, ignites their curiosity and gets them excited about the healthcare arena. We encourage children around the world to not be afraid to dream big and pursue those dreams. Our mission and vision is to Introduce-Discover-IGNITE-and Make An Impact in the lives of kids in STEM offering Hands-on Learning, role-play activities and experiments in a fun and creative way.

Help us enlighten career-minded kids about the possibilities in the healthcare arena, as they discover special insights that will help them achieve their career goals.

Students will learn the main responsibilities of a doctor. They will also learn about the different parts of the brain, first aid, CPR, and the opportunity to get Red Cross certified. They will learn how the heart functions, how the kidney functions, how many bones are in the body and much more. Students will explore the exciting world of healthcare. Each class will have different medical topics with age-appropriate activities, and experiments in a fun and creative way.

It is our hope to increase the pipeline for those who have traditionally been under-represented in the healthcare industry. During these classes, students may interact with community healthcare professionals including physicians, nurses, pharmacists, respiratory therapists, and forensic scientists, etc.
